

We use an intake form listing clients' concerns before they start training. Intermittently, clients will be asked to refill the form in order to see what concerns have fallen away versus what may now be surfacing.

Below are 2 examples, one after 5 sessions or Neurofeedback and the other after 19 sessions.

As you can see above after 19 sessions Client 1 went from 11 symptoms to 3 symptoms the other two shown are acute symptoms of his current situation (noted in red).

Above you can see how after 5 sessions, symptoms reduced from 13 to 2. The above, before and after lists of concerns, are testament to the fact that with each individual, results will vary.
